

Knowledge organiser: Year 7 'Texture'

Slip	Clay particles in water, used as the 'glue' when building.
Actual texture	The real feel of something. For example, the sculpture is smooth to the touch
Simulated texture	Texture that is seen, you cannot touch it. For example, a drawing of a fluffy cat

Ernst Haeckel

Born in Germany 1834, Haeckel was a zoologist, biologist, artist and naturalist amongst other titles. He discovered many new species and recorded his findings by drawing, painting and writing.

His illustrated microscopic findings later influenced Art Nouveau artists.

Heather Knight

Knight is an American porcelain ceramist who has a passion for all things natural form. She hand builds all of her pieces and uses chopsticks as her main building and textural tool.

Her complex and beautifully crafted pieces, are sold to individuals and galleries, which has allowed her to open up a small family run ceramic business.
